Enduro European Championship in Uhlirske Janovice (Czech Republic)

With a second place in the final day of the last round of the enduro-european-championship in Uhlirske Janovice / CZ, the Italian Maurizio Micheluz defended his Overall-title!

“Why do we always have to race in rain and mud,” asked the Suzuki-rider before, because he knows, that this kind of conditions preferably the Englishman. But his greatest competitor, the Brit Tom Sagar, was fighting with technical problems on second day: His chain jumped away and this costs him more than 40 seconds in the special-test. So Sagar's fellow countryman, Steve Holcombe, repeated his success from the first day and was again fastest rider of all classes.

In addition this weekend where fight out for the national rankings - these were won by the british riders in the National-Team and in the Juniors!

Only this weekend started the 50cc-class: In this particular junior-class only teenagers up to the age of 16 years allowed. The Italian Matteo Pavoni on his Valenti won the two-day-score and the FIM-Europe-Cup.
