Strong European participation in Team Events

Events for National Teams are always very special, as they are the most popular showcase of our sport. It is the only occasion where the best riders of the world come together and compete for their Country.

They ride with great pride and enthusiasm for their colours. It is an honour for every rider to be selected for the national team and compete against riders of all the other national teams.

European Federations have a long history and tradition to take part in these events and they work very hard on the preparation as well as the selection of the riders.

These are the famous team events: ISDE (International Six Days Enduro), Motocross of Nations, SuperMoto of Nations, Trial des Nations and Freestyle of Nations. Expect the Snowcross of Nations as of 2016.

FIM has recently issued a statistics about the venues and the participation in the past years:

«FIM Europe, as the largest Continental Union with 47 Federations as affiliated members, features always the biggest number of participants», says dr Wolfgang Srb. «This is a heavy burden in terms of financial and logistic efforts. I am happy that the European Federations keep the value, tradition and importance of the team events very high on the agenda».
