

European Supermoto Championship in Albaida (Spain)

Albaida (Spain) 30 April 2016 - At the Circuito de la Vega the second Round of the S2 Championship is held this weekend. Under the supervision of the very good organisation in Albaida, the big crowd enjoyed the practices in unexpected sunny conditions. In S2 it was current championship leader Petr Vorlicek (in the photo) who was fastest.

After the races in Jerez it was no surprise that Suzuki Grau rider Petr Vorlicek was the fastest rider in the first free practice of the S2 class in Albaida. The Czech rider created an advantage of almost 0.5 seconds on second rider Yamaha Inside Motorsport Kevin Fagre. Third in the first free practice was TM Sbd Giovanni Bussei. In free practice two it was again Petr Vorlicek who the fastest pace, but the advantage on second rider Giovanni Bussei was smaller and promises a strong battle in the time practice. Third in the second free practice was TM Factory rider Joan Llados.

Just before the start of the time practice of the S2 and S1GP class the weather in Albaida was changing rapidly with heavy wind, thunderstorms, rain and hailstorms. As the track became very wet and hard to drive, the Race Direction decided to cancel the time practices and Superchronos in Saturday. The official time practices and Superchronos will be held on Sunday before the races.
