Press Release n. 52

Celebrate the World Environmental Day

Dear friends,

tomorrow will be the World Environmental Day.

The entire human community is called to do something to show the commitment with the preservation of our planet and leave to our descendent a place in which live in the best possible way.

This year's motto is "GREEN THE BLUE", beat air pollution.

As done in my previous press release, I invite all of you to celebrate the WED tomorrow and during the events of the weekend. There are many ways to do it: reduce the running of the engines of our bikes, planting trees, reduce the consumption of energy, etc.

Choose your way to demonstrate your commitment and share it with us.

Enjoy the World Environment Day!
