The provisional calendar also includes the rounds scheduled for MXGP, MX2 and Women's Motocross World Championship.

The Opening venue of the European championships is going to be one of fans' favourites, Matterley Basin, being the MXGP of Great Britain the first European GP to start off the season since 2012. The second stop will be the following weekend on 8th March in the sandy track of Valkenswaard, in the Netherlands.

Then the calendar will visit some of the most emblematic tracks in the calendar such as Pietramurata in Trentino, St. Jean d'Angely in France, Teutschenthal in Germany, Orlyonok in Russia and Kegums in Latvia.

The 2020 calendar also features big comebacks, such as the one of Spain, whose venue is still to be announced, or the one of Maggiora where the 2020 MXGP of Italy will be hosted.

Then it will be time for one of the old school venues of the calendar, Loket in Czech Republic, followed by the sandy circuit of Lommel in Belgium and the hillside track of Uddevalla in Sweden.

The season will keep on at the brand-new Kymi Ring circuit in Iitti, Finland, and afterwards Turkey before the final round in Imola.
