Presentation of the second round of the Enduro EC in Bacau (Romania)

The Enduro European Championship is on its way to the second round. Next weekend (31st of May/1st of June) it will take place in Bacau, in the northwest of Romania. Even if it is a long way for many participants, there are expected more than 90 riders from 14 nations.

On both days they have to go for three times the track with 60 km and three special-tests each round.

Above all, the reigning overall-champion Maurizio Micheluz is willing to defend his current leadership. But behind the Italians are already 5 (!) British riders in wait. Among these, the reigning champion of the E2-class Tom Sagar, who already had won a stage victory in Spain.
