

24th June 2022

Press Release n. 73

The European Enduro championship promotes eco-friendly mobility with a class reserved to electric bikes

Great news for the 2022 Borilli Enduro European Championship!

In occasion of the 3rd round in Sipoo, Finland, on 23rd-24th July, a new class reserved to electric bikes will be introduced. This new type of vehicle will arrive within the European Enduro championship and will race the same special tests of the “traditional” vehicles. An exciting proving ground for these bikes which have made their appearance on the market years ago. Despite the absence of the traditional sound, they manage to give the same emotions as vehicles with the internal combustion engine.

A brand-new and innovative formula aimed at promoting the sustainable mobility. The FIM Europe is increasingly careful in respecting and safeguarding the planet and the promotion of this zero-emission category is a concrete proof.

More information about the new category and the race: www.enduroeuropean.com